

THAVIU AND BAND ARE APPRECIATED

Remarkable Voices Disclosed in Rendering of Tabloid Opera. Leader is Forceful and Impetuous.

Thaviu and his band, assisted by a company of vocalists, gave two good concerts at Springbrook casino Tuesday. The band is unquestionably a very creditable organization, one of the best, though not among the most widely known, which has visited this city recently. Among the singers who presented grand opera in tabloid were some really remarkable voices, notably that of Sig. Modesto, baritone.

Thaviu is young and handsome and his directing is forcefully nervous and impetuous; at times it even approaches the tempestuousness of that pyrotechnical leader, Creatore. But Thaviu has his musicians under complete control of his baton at all times; of that there is no doubt, particularly after one has heard the band play such a tricky march as "Hohenzollern," which opened the Tuesday evening program, or the Mazurka from the opera by Delibes. The players are masters of their instruments as several solo fragments revealed, and their ensemble presents a smooth virile tone whether it be in the pensive passages or in grand crashes like the finale of the William Tell overture.

The hearty applause which greeted the band at the conclusion of the first part of the program indicated the enthusiasm which the players aroused. Thaviu was forced to respond to a curtain call.

"Trovars" was the opera given in tabloid Tuesday evening. The more popular scenes of this popular opera were presented by four soloists, the chorus necessarily being minus. As before indicated Sig. Modesto carried off the vocal honors of the evening. He has a rich powerful baritone and displayed no little dramatic ability in his portrayal of the villainous Di Luna of the opera, Sig. Giaccone, tenor, in the role of Manrico was close to Modesto in favor. Giaccone put plenty of "tears" in his voice and seemed still to have some in reserve for such crucial moments as the climax in the much favored "prison song." Madame Bertossi sang well the role of Leonora, the unhappy heroine of the opera, and Madame Yahr sang the part of the wandering spy, Azucena.

This afternoon the band and singers will give another program and in the evening the second part of the program will be devoted to the tabloid presentation of the opera Carmen.

YES, HE WAS HIT, BUT NOT BY A TRAIN

"Send the ambulance to Prairie av. and Railroad st. A man has been hit," came an excited voice over the telephone at the police station about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Prairie av. and Railroad st. means Taylor st. and the Lake Shore at the police station, so "a man hit" could mean but one thing: Another railroad accident.

To use a stage term, business of hurrying on the part of the men around the station. Out the door they flew in the auto ambulance and started to the assistance of the dying man. Speed was the big idea and speed they made.

Arrival at the corner of Prairie av. and Railroad st. found a group of men.

"Where is he?" asked one of the patrolmen.

"Where is who?" inquired one of the men.

"The man who was hit," said the patrolman.

"Oh, he's gone," was the reply.

"Whadyemean he's gone?" asked the patrolman.

And then it developed that a man had been hit, all right, but he had been hit in the nose by another man. Both of them had gone.

Y. M. C. OF C. PLANS STRENUOUS PROGRAM

Good Roads and Oliver Smoke Nuisance to Come in for Recognition.

A strenuous program is mapped out for the Young Men's Chamber of Commerce if all the lines of activity discussed at the meeting Tuesday night are followed.

Good roads will be one of the first subjects tackled by the new organization. The sentiment of the body voiced Tuesday was decidedly in favor of securing good roads to supplant the rather poor ones now in the county. A committee will be appointed Thursday morning to confer with the Lincoln Highway association, investigate conditions, ascertain in what way the chamber can expend its energies toward securing good roads, and report back to the body.

Ways and means by which the smoke nuisance could be fought were discussed. It was decided to appoint a committee to work with the city authorities and endeavor to work out a method by which it could be abated, aside from the one now proposed by which the Indiana and Michigan Electric company is to furnish the heat.

That the organization should aid in securing the property vacated by the old First Methodist church with the ultimate idea of either enlarging the court house or erecting another, was the sentiment voiced at the meeting and a committee will be named by Pres. Lenn Oare, which will take up the matter with the board of county commissioners and offer the assistance of the chamber in whatever way it may be desired.

Another step in completing the organization was taken when 10 directors, each to serve for one year, were elected. Occupations and trades that were not considered at the first election were put up and the following were elected: John Valenta, Harvey Rostker, Harold J. Lower, Walter Heller, George C. Cover, Raymond G. Dale, Donald R. Lavenwood, M. C. Hendershot, Charles S. Yost, and Walter C. Eiler. The remaining 10 directors will be elected at the meeting on July 28.

The picnic committee reported that the tickets for the outing were selling slow, but nevertheless they predicted a big turnout of the young men, as last year but 50 tickets were sold before the day of the outing, while 250 more were taken at the train. The committee, which also served on membership, reported that over 250 application blanks had been distributed to men who had signified their willingness to join the organization.

SUNDAY SCHOOL IN PICNIC

First M. E. Members Spend Day at Michigan City.

The Sunday school of the First Methodist church, joined the ranks of the picnickers Tuesday and held their annual outing at Michigan City. When the special train left at 8:30 five cars were filled by the members.

It is estimated that between 250 and 400 people attended.

As soon as the party arrived the athletic events, including races, nail driving contests and a ball game between teams led by Elmer Burnham and Alfred Bondurant, the score of which was lost early in the game, were pulled off.

Following the contests the members dispersed to amuse themselves, some joining the bathers, others went boat riding, while many went sightseeing about the city.

The return trip was made at 6 o'clock.

MIDWEEK SERVICE TONIGHT

Dr. Gardiner to Lead Discussion at St. Paul's M. E. Church.

The mid-week service to be held this evening in St. Paul's Memorial Methodist Episcopal church will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. James L. Gardiner, D. D. The special theme to be considered will be the question: "What Does It Mean to Be Saved?"

Dr. Gardiner will speak briefly on the question at length, and a number of others will be invited to take part in the discussion.

On Thursday evening an ice cream social will be held under the auspices of the Dorcas society at St. Paul's house, 831 W. Colfax av.

WAITED AN HOUR FOR HIM

Lays in Wait for Man, Killing Him With Shotgun.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., July 15.—"I waited more than an hour in the dark of the road for him and when he came, as I knew he would, I fired—both barrels of a shot gun. He shrieked and died and I ran through the fields back home."

Thus Edgar Murphy, arrested yesterday in connection with the brutal murder Saturday midnight of Herman Fisher, near the home of his fiancée, Ida Wilhelm, at New Albany, confessed to the police tonight.

Jealousy was the motive for the crime, Murphy having an affection for the girl, which, he says, drove him mad. Murphy stoutly maintained his innocence when arrested.

BRINGS DEAD GIRL TO LIFE

Doctor in Vain Hope Massages Her Heart.

ROME, July 15.—Dr. Vannucci, chief surgeon at the hospital at Pistoia, literally brought a dead girl back to life. The patient, Maria Bondini, was being operated upon for the recovery of a needle which had accidentally been imbedded in the flesh near her heart. During the operation, while Dr. Vannucci was holding the girl's heart in his hand, pulsation suddenly ceased. The physician declared the girl dead and his colleagues confirmed him.

As a forlorn hope Dr. Vannucci began to massage the heart. The organ was gradually stimulated into activity and the girl lived again. Then the operation was concluded. There is every hope that the young woman will recover.

DROPS DEAD AT PLAY

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., July 15.—While playing croquet on his summer home on Naukeag farm Tuesday, Charles Cobb, a wealthy retired business man, dropped dead of heart disease.

Theaters

AT THE COLONIAL. The program at the Colonial today will have a Selig drama entitled "The Strangement," a story of mystery by the Kalem players, called "The Missing Jewels," and a double comedy, "While the Band Played" and "Almost an Outrage." The latter is from the Biograph studio and promises to be most entertaining.

LUCILLE LOVE. "Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery" will be the attraction at the Surprise theatre today. In this 13th installment Hugo pursues Lucille and her car runs over a cliff. She is hurt and he takes her back to the house. Finally she agrees to return peacefully to San Francisco. On the trip Thompson follows them, bent on getting revenge on Hugo. At the hotel the bellboys afford a good deal of comedy which is alright at first, but grows rather tiresome. Thinking she will learn something about the papers she gets Loubeque to take her to a restaurant, where they are joined by one of his confederates. Knowing they will not talk while she is present she feigns illness and leaves. Disguised as a dancer she returns and hovers near their table in the hope of hearing their conversation. Her sweetheart, Lieutenant Gibson, comes to the cafe and recognizes her. He is horrified and giving her no time to explain, rushes out, while she sinks gracefully to the floor in a dead faint. "An Eavesdropper" is a funny Keystone. Its situations are irresistible and its sensational ending is new and a scream.

Tomorrow's bill will include a two part Winifred Greenwood feature. Miss Greenwood plays the lead and does very creditable work. She throws her heart and soul into the picture. Ed. Coxen and George Field play the hero and villain, respectively, and with the able support of a large company work out a series of climaxes. The picture is entitled "The Little House in the Valley." The Mutual weekly will be shown with the Greenwood feature.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. The ninth edition of "The Perils of Pauline" in two reels, "His Wife and His Work," a two-reel drama by Rupert Hughes; "Who's Boss" and "His Sudden Discovery," two comedies are the pictures being offered at the Auditorium today. Tomorrow's bill includes "The Man in the Street," an adaptation of the novel by Mary Imray Taylor in three parts. With the aid of drink Gadsden has slid far down the social ladder, his only possession being an unacted play, Richerson, a millionaire spendthrift, steals the play, and Kitty French, whom Gadsden loved in the old days, heads the company. Through her loyalty, Gadsden finally comes into his own. The Pathe Weekly of current events, "Kaintucky Bill," Kalem drama, telling how his sense of duty causes a notorious moonshiner, who has been elected sheriff in a spirit of jest, to give up his former life, is stirring shown in this picture. Helen Holmes and J. P. McGowan portray the leading roles. Kaintucky Bill regards his appointment as a joke until revenue officers remind him of his oath. Always a man of his word, he determines to put an end to his gang's activities. After pleading with him in vain, his sweetheart, Mary, daughter of one of the moonshiners, goes to warn the gang. They regard it as a joke until Kaintucky Bill holds them up and destroys the still. "Fleeing From Fleas" is a Kalem comedy, and "Trooping the Colors" is a picture of the English life guards.

MEN

Whole weakened vitality, exhausted nerves and shattered nerves tell a pitiable story, caused in many cases by ignorance or neglect, and who are in a condition of extreme peril unless promptly restored to health, these are the very men we want to cure.

What can be more pitiable than to see one drooping and fading away in the springtime of life? Disease soon ruins the face of its color and the eyes of their brightness. The stooping form, languid step and downcast countenance reveal to the critical eye the blight of existence, but this is only the shadow or outward mark of the trouble existing within, and one soon passes from the boundaries of health into the confines of disease. Nervous, easily confused, absent-minded, forgetful, continually harassed by doubts and fear, highly suspicious, irritable, avoids society and would rather be alone. The system unstrung, headache, backache, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, dizziness, deranged stomach, torpid liver, weak kidneys, poor circulation and is tired, lifeless and worn out. No ambition, confidence or courage.

TISSUE WASTE

Either partial or total, overcome by our method of treatment for weak, diseased men. Call and we will explain why it cures when all else fails.

URETHRAL OBSTRUCTION

Cured by absorption in a short time; no pain, no cutting. By our method the urethral canal is healed and the entire system restored to its healthy state. No failure or loss of time.

VARICOCELE—HYDROCELE

Cured, no pain, no loss of time. Why suffer longer when you can be cured in a few hours at a small cost? Call and we will convince you of the superiority of our treatment.

BLOOD POISON

Cured, symptoms overcome in two days. If suffering from ulcers, sore mouth or throat, falling hair, bone pains, come and we will cure you. We will save your blood forever. Read our guarantee.
